Purpose. Use this week's exercise in discrimination of medial consonant sounds to determine which children need additional practice in this area. Next week's exercise will also present discrimination of medial consonant sounds. Directions. "Look at the first picture in the first row. Say the picture name, listening for the sound in the middle of the word. It is the sound of d. Trace the letter d beside the picture." (Complete the row in the same manner.) "Look at the first picture in the second row. Say the picture name, listening for the middle sound. Write the letter that stands for that sound on the lines beside the picture." Complete the page following the procedure outlined above. See the Teacher's Edition for additional activities in discrimination of medial consonant sounds.
